DUPONT WARNS COMMITTEE OF DRY LAW VOTE

Industrial Leader Says People Are Determined To Have Referendum.

By William S. Neal.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 23.—Declaring that the people are determined to have a vote on prohibition, Pierre S. Dupont, prominent industrialist, today warned the house judiciary committee that denial of their plea is an open invitation to efforts to change our form of government.

Plainly aroused by dry attacks upon his leadership in the wet movement but choosing his words carefully, Dupont turned upon his traducers with vigor.

He told the committee that the declaration of independence has given the people a "court of last resort" through which they can alter or abolish their government when it invades the rights of the people.

Appearing as the first rebuttal witness for the wets in support of bills to repeal the 18th amendment, Dupont declared:

"The 'best people' are in open revolt against the prohibition amendment.

There is a general belief that high government officials, members of congress and state legislatures violate the law they are sworn to uphold.

Congress itself has disregarded the 18th amendment five times twice flouting decisions of the supreme court.

"The government has become a law breaker, invading homes and killing people.

The 18th amendment was rushed through congress in defiance of the recorded wishes of a majority of the people.

Prohibition should be submitted to state constitutional conventions of elected delegates.

The automobile industry, not prohibition, brought prosperity to the nation.

"It is a remarkable fact that many, even of the most upright and respected citizens, are in open revolt against the supposed purpose of the 18th amendment, this is, the entire suppression of drinking," he said.

"Many who pretend to uphold the law and exalt its benefits do not hesitate to drink when liquor is furnished them.

"It seems a general belief that men in high government positions in the legislatures, in congress and elsewhere continue to use intoxicating liquor just as those in private life. It would cause no surprise to find drinking even among those administering the law and judging the law breakers."

When the hospital is completed and before it is turned over to the city an opening will be held to which everyone will be invited and at that time the hospital commission will formally turn the hospital over to the city.

FEDERAL PRISON WARDENS WARNED TO TAKE SPECIAL PRECAUTION AGAINST FIRE

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Following the horror at Ohio State Penitentiary, Sanford Bates, superintendent of federal prisons today wired all federal prison wardens to make certain that all precautions are being taken against fire and to see that prisoners and guards are properly instructed as to action in case of disaster.

"Protection against fire, and the necessary steps to assure safety to prisoners and to prevent escapes in case of conflagrations are largely left to wardens who are directly in charge," Bates said.

Asking questions.

"However, we are asking the wardens a few questions and calling particular attention to their responsibilities as precautionary measures. General instructions on the subject have been issued from Washington. The wardens are expected to hold fire drills and the guards are expected to know just what to do should fires break out."

Bates said he believed that in all the federal prisons the wardens and guards were well prepared to act in case of emergencies. Nevertheless he indicated the lesson of the terrible catastrophe at the Columbus prison must be taken to heart by all prison authorities throughout the country to guard against a repetition.

Undoubtedly the crowded condition in the Ohio Penitentiary was partially responsible for the heavy casualty list. The same or even worse conditions exist in the large federal prisons.

The six federal institutions were built to house 6,775 prisoners. The population of these prisons and reformatories April 1 was 11,896, nearly 190 percent over-crowded. Admittedly this creates a serious

ATTORNEY GENERAL PLACES ATTENTION ON NEGLIGENCE OF MEMBERS OF PEN GUARD

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—"It is my duty and purpose as Attorney General to aid the administrative officers of the state government in getting to the bottom of this tragedy. The people of Ohio are entitled to the facts and there will be no letup on my part until all possible facts are learned."

This was the statement of Attorney General Gilbert Bettman today as he resumed the investigation into the stark tragedy at Ohio Penitentiary Monday evening which resulted in the death of 318 prisoners and injuries to more than 200 others.

While long lines of sorrow-stricken relatives sadly and tearfully wended their way through the huge improvised morgue at the state fair grounds here, where the 318 convict victims of the nation's greatest prison fire lie side by side in the cold and forbidding silence of death, the governor's investigating body today continued its exhaustive probe into the Ohio State Penitentiary holocaust of Monday evening.

Meanwhile, steps towards relief from the alarming prison situation had been officially taken. Governor Myers Y. Cooper announced that he would appoint a commission of five prominent Ohioans to act as an advisory board to help him solve the prison problem.

The death toll in the greatest disaster of its kind in the history of the nation, is expected to increase when some of the 221 injured prisoners die. For four of them, it is only a matter of time. They can't recover, prison hospital attaches declared.

Responsibility for the terrible tragedy remains clouded by the testimony of the witnesses who appeared before the commonwealth's probing committee. One thing is certain, however, most of the witnesses admitted that the appalling catastrophe might have been averted if prompt action had been taken.

The probe today centered around two questions: Why were there so many delays in releasing the convicts in the burning cell block?

CAPTAIN TESTIFIES

Captain John Hall, 71-year-old guard at the penal institution, is testifying before the governor's investigating body, which is holding its session within the very walls of the criminal-inhabited colony, denied that he had forbidden Guard Thomas Watkinson, about 60, to open the doors and the way to freedom for the convicts.

"My only orders, Hall said, were 'Get those men out of there!'"

The convicts were trapped in their individually locked cells, because Watkinson, according to the man's own admissions, had delayed opening the corridor door to allow two other guards, who had keys to the individual cells, to the tiers to release the prisoners.

"Captain Hall had ordered me 'Don't open that door,' said Watkinson. 'I couldn't disobey my superior officer.'"

Captain Hall, when he assumed the witness chair, denied having given such an order, and the testimony of two other guards partially vindicated the aged and hollow-eyed captain.

One guard told Attorney General Gilbert Bettman that he had obtained his position as guard after he had been dismissed from the Columbus police force for selling liquor.

BETTMAN WORKS

Bettman, members of his staff, and John J. Chester, Jr., Franklin-co's young prosecutor, combed the ruins of the devastated G and H cell block today for a clue to the fire's origin.

Testimony which so far has been admitted to the records indicated that defective wiring had caused the fire. Oil soaked wooden forms, in which concrete blocks had been set, added fuel to the fire, and caused the following smoke, which claimed more lives than the actual flames of the fire.

"Testimony so far points to gross negligence on the part of certain members of the Penitentiary force," said the attorney general.

fire as well as disciplinary hazard and places the wardens at an extreme disadvantage in controlling the inmates.

In addition to the prisoners in federal institutions the government has 13,565 persons quartered in county jails and state prisons and 248 in road camps, brings the total number of government prisoners to 25,659. The majority of them are serving terms for prohibition and narcotic violations.

Indicating over-crowded conditions are the following official figures:

Prison	Cap.	Pop.
Atlanta	1,580	3,758
McNeill Island, Wash.	558	1,058
Leavenworth	1,640	3,461

Owing to over-crowded conditions many of the federal prisoners are idle all or part of the time. Since the prison industrial instructions are not adequate to keep all busy.

ATTORNEY GENERAL PLACES ATTENTION ON NEGLIGENCE OF MEMBERS OF PEN GUARD

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—"It is my duty and purpose as Attorney General to aid the administrative officers of the state government in getting to the bottom of this tragedy. The people of Ohio are entitled to the facts and there will be no letup on my part until all possible facts are learned."

This was the statement of Attorney General Gilbert Bettman to-

DEATH TOTAL IS NOW 318

Edward Wills of Cuyahoga-Co Claimed Wednesday—In For Larceny.

BY H. T. HOPKINS.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—One of the many victims of fatal suffocation, Edward Wills, who was serving a five-to-seven-year term for larceny, died in the state penitentiary hospital here today.

The passing of Wills raised the death list to 318 as a result of the appalling catastrophe at the Ohio prison Monday night when fire gutted a cell block.

Wills was sentenced from Cuyahoga-co.

The bodies of the 317 other victims of the prison holocaust here still lie today at the improvised morgue in the horticultural building at the state fair grounds.

Of those 317 and 317 coffins there were actually counted by International News Service—only 70 bodies had been officially identified this morning.

BREAKDOWN IS DEATH CAUSE

Mrs. Mary Keel, Sister of Local Residents, Dies at Home
In McComb, O.

Mrs. Mary Keel aged 75, widow of Marvel Keel, died at her home in McComb, O., at 10:50 a. m. Tuesday. Mrs. Keel has been ill since Christmas when she suffered a nervous collapse caused by the sudden death of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Keel of Findlay, who were killed enroute to her home with Christmas packages.

Mrs. Keel was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudisill, former residents of Pickaway-co and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Milton Steininger of McCord, O., and a son, Grover Keel of Findlay.

Of the immediate family, four brothers, Frank Rudisill and Sherman Rudisill, of this city, Archie Rudisill, McComb, O., and Cary Rudisill, Findlay; and three sisters, Mrs. Jennie Huntworth, Findlay; Mrs. Tillie Huber, Ashland and Mrs. J. D. Pfingst, Syracuse, Ind., survive.

Funeral services for Mrs. Keel will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. from the M. E. Church at McComb.

DR. JACKSON AID AT PEN DISASTER

Dr. Harry D. Jackson has been serving for the past two days with the 112th medical regiment in Columbus, following the state penitentiary disaster Monday.

Dr. Jackson's duties have been at the horticulture building on the state fair grounds, where the 317 dead convicts have been examined for wounds, and prepared for burial.

AIR CADETS MEET

A meeting of all members of the American Air Cadets and all youths between the ages of nine and 20 who are interested will be held at Joseph's this evening at 7 o'clock.

GLASSES BREAK

Damage of $25 was sustained when glassware fell from its place in the rear of the soda fountain at Hanley's Tea room Tuesday evening.

day as he resumed the investigation into the stark tragedy at Ohio Penitentiary Monday evening which resulted in the death of 318 prisoners and injuries to more than 200 others.

While long lines of sorrow-stricken relatives sadly and tearfully wended their way through the huge improvised morgue at the state Fair Grounds here, where the 318 convict victims of the nation's greatest prison fire lie side by side in the cold and forbidding silence of death, the governor's investigating body today continued its exhaustive probe into the Ohio State Penitentiary holocaust of Monday evening.

TO NAME BOARD
Meanwhile, steps towards relief from the alarming prison situation had been officially taken. Governor Myers Y. Cooper announced that he would appoint a commission of five prominent Ohioans to act as an advisory board to help him solve the prison problem.

The death toll in the greatest disaster of its kind in the history of the nation, is expected to increase when some of the 231 injured prisoners die. For four of them, it is only a matter of time. They can't recover, prison hospital attaches declared.

Responsibility for the terrible tragedy remains clouded by the testimony of the witnesses who appeared before the commonwealth's probing committee. One thing is certain, however, most of the witnesses admitted that the appalling catastrophe might have been averted if prompt action had been taken.

The probe today centered around two questions: "They are: Will Warden P. E. Thomas be suspended and perhaps ultimately discharged?"

Why was there so much delay in releasing the convicts in the burning cell block?

CAPTAIN TESTIFIES

Captain John Hall, 71-year-old guard at the penal institution, in testifying before the governor's investigating body, which is holding its session within the very walls of the criminal-inhabited colony, denied that he had forbidden Guard Thomas Watkinson, about 60, to open the doors and the way to freedom for the convicts.

"My only orders, Hall said, were 'Get those men out of there!'" The convicts were trapped in their individually locked cells, because Watkinson, according to the man's own admissions, had delayed opening the corridor door to allow two other guards, who had keys to the individual cells, to the tiers to release the prisoners.

"Captain Hall had ordered me, 'Don't open that door,' said Watkinson. 'I couldn't disobey my superior officer.'"

Captain Hall, when he assumed the witness chair, denied having given such an order, and the testimony of two other guards partially vindicated the aged and hollow-eyed captain.

One guard told Attorney General Gilbert Bettman that he had obtained his position as guard after he had been dismissed from the Columbus police force for selling liquor.

BETTMAN WORKS

Bettman, members of his staff, and John J. Chester, Jr., Franklin-co's young prosecutor, combed the ruins of the devastated G and H cell block today for a clue to the fire's origin.

Testimony which so far has been admitted to the records indicated that defective wiring had caused the fire. Oil soaked wooden forms, in which concrete blocks had been set, added fuel to the fire, and caused the billowing smoke, which claimed more lives than the actual flames of the fire.

"Testimony so far points to gross negligence on the part of certain members of the Penitentiary force," said the attorney general.

THREE ARE NAMED TO FIX DAMAGES

John C. Stevenson, Thomas F. Jeffries and Noah A. Warner were appointed to appraise and fix the damage in condemnation suit of the State of Ohio against the Fry land in Jackson-twp, where the State of Ohio is straightening the road by taking a sharp curve out of the Jackson pike.

BING MILLER'S HOME RUN BLOW WINS FOR MACKMEN OVER WRETCHED YANKEES

NEW YORK, April 23—It is hardly possible that the New York Yankees have been reading those "wretched" Russian writers ever since last October but the facts remain they are insisting on the unhappy ending. Out there in the house that Ruth built the Yankees brought tears to the eyes of 66,000 fans yesterday as they folded up before the Athletics, 7 to 6. This afternoon they again tackle the world's champions in their sixth start in an effort to win a 1930 ball game.

After holding a 6 to 5 lead until the eighth inning, the Shawkey outfit sagged to permit the A's to tie it up and then in the ninth that ferocious Bing Miller ignored Mayor Walker and all the other opening day dignitaries by banging out a home run that clinched the performance. Sherrill and Phipps allowed the A's nine hits, and Lefty Grove and three others gave the Yanks 11, safes. In passing it should be mentioned Lou Gehrig gave promise of recovering the bay power he so mysteriously had away last season by coming a homer in the third canto.

The anemic hose of Chicago actually up there in second place in the American League behind the A's marred Cleveland's home season opening by winning 4 to 3. Al Thomas justified the suspicion of many that he is the best or the luckiest hurler in the circuit when he retired Joe Sewell on a hopper in the ninth after the Indians fiddled the bags with two out.

Buddy Myers, second baseman singled to center in the eighth and scored Rice, who had doubled to tie the score in the Washington-Boston skirmish. The rest was not easy but the Senators finally won 4 to 3 in a 12-inning struggle.

Gullic, a gardener described as an Ozark mountaineer, won for the Browns 5 to 4 in a 13-inning battle with the Detroit Tigers. Wyatt, the third Detroit pitcher, gave a base on balls to start the final inning and after a sacrifice Mr. Gullic responded with a single for the winning tally. McManus of the Tigers got four hits in five times up.

Minneapolis Team Chalks Up Victory Number Three By 7 To 5 Count.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—The Columbus Senators, of whom great things were expected in the American Association baseball league, have gone a tobogganing instead of playing the old American pastime.

The Minneapolis Millers who trekked into Columbus for a series of games, minus any scalps, were expected to be docile and generous to the welfare of the Senators, instead they greased the slide off which Columbus slipped into last place. A slugfest which brought toe-to-toe yesterday availed the Senators naught as the Millers delivered the knockout punch in the form of 2 markers in the ninth to chalk up victory number 3, by a 7 to 5 count.

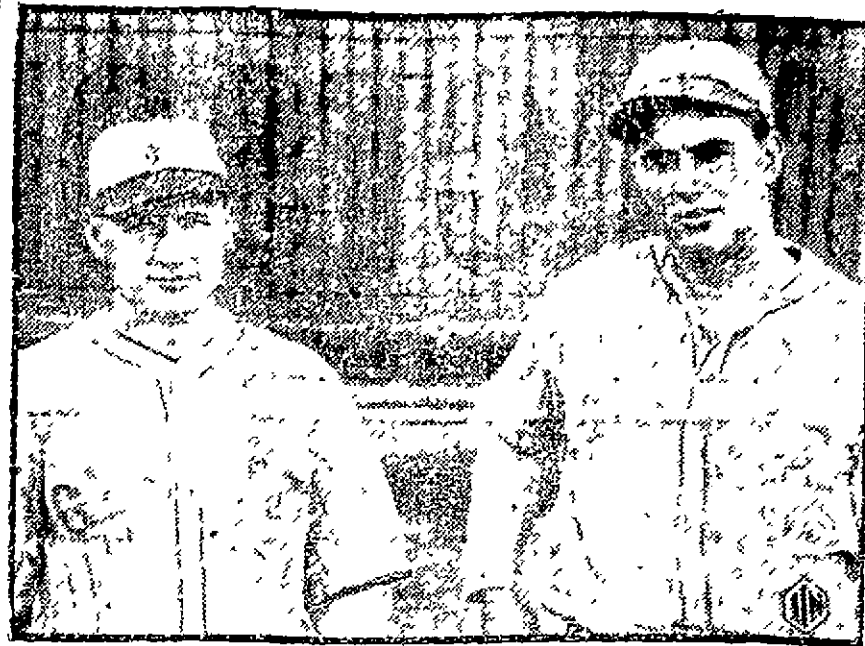

Indianapolis took the final game of its series with the Milwaukee brewers, by a 2 to 0 score. Mike Cvangros, Indian hurler, allowed the Brewers only a sip of four scattered binges.

St. Paul-Toledo and Kansas City-Louisville games were postponed as the players could not locate their red flannels with which to combat the cold weather.

TO REPORT FEED TEST

Madison-Co Experiment Farm To Be Scene of Exhibit On May 1.

Thursday afternoon May 1st, a meeting will be held on the Madison County experiment farm at which time the cattle on test will be exhibited and the results of the test reported. One lot of 14 cattle have received a full silage ration and the other lot of 10 cattle a half silage ration plus shelled corn. Both lots receive hay and cotton seed meal alike.

Last year's test which attracted state wide interest was a comparison of all silage with all shelled corn with cottonseed and hay alike to both groups. An acre of corn in this test gave much larger returns when fed thru the silo. The question raised by last year's test was what would have been the outcome from a ration which contained both silage and shelled corn. The test this year answers this very point and a large number of feeders are very much interested in the answer.

A big crowd is expected. The Experiment Farm is four miles west of London and a little over a mile from the penitentiary farm.

COUNTY SIXTH IN SHIPMENT

Livestock Valued At One Million Shipped in Ohio During March.

Live stock valued at more than $1,000,000 was sold through farmers' cooperatives in Ohio during March, says a report from the Ohio Live Stock Cooperative Association.

Thirty-six counties with shipping associations reported a total of 711 carloads shipped. They included 21,472 hogs going to market, 10,889 hogs going direct to packers—32,361 in all, 2,075 cattle, 4,180 calves and 21,549 sheep. The market weight of this stock was 9,814,374 pounds and its net market value $1,008,095.96.

With poor corn and a large reduction in number of hogs on farms the percentage of stock sold cooperatively has shown a good gain. R. Q. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the association, states, "There were eight per cent fewer hogs on farms in 1929 than in 1928 and 14 and one half per cent fewer this year than last. This is a loss of nearly a million hogs in two years." Coupled with the poor feeding quality of corn this has cut drastically into the receipts at eastern terminal markets. At the same time the cooperative receipts at these markets have shown an increase. During the second week of April cooperative receipts at Pittsburgh reached 45.4 percent which is a record for all time. They were 33.7 percent at Cincinnati, 26.6 percent at Buxalo and 18.7 percent at Cleveland. All counties with the exception of a few of the predominately hog producing counties showed an increase, in volume over March a year ago.

Pickaway-co marketed 35 decks the report of Harry Briggs, manager of the association, shows. The ten leading counties were Franklin, Fayette, Putnam, Logan, Pickaway, Hardin, Darke, Greene and Wyandot.

"KONJOLA DID WHAT ALL ELSE FAILED TO DO"

Various Ills That Ruled For 18 Months Are Ended By This New Medicine.

MRS. L. D. JOHNSTON. "In my case Konjola did what all else I tried failed to do," said Mrs. L. D. Johnston, West Jefferson, Ohio, near Columbus. "My appetite failed completely, and what little I did force myself to eat caused intense stomach pains. I always felt tired and worn out; had dizzy spells and terrific headaches that lasted for days at a time. I was just sick all over and felt miserable."

"But what was I to do? Not a medicine I tried helped me a particle. A friend, who knew my condition, highly recommended Konjola. I decided to take her advice. Well, to make a long story short, six bottles of this splendid medicine completely ended everyone of my health troubles. I am gaining in weight and feeling simply great. Just to be rid of those terrible headaches is a joy in itself. I feel my duty to endorse such a wonderful medicine."

When taken for six or eight weeks Konjola, the new and different medicine, will work wonders that will astonish those who suffer from stubborn ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Circleville at Hamilton & Ryan's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

MOST CANADIAN BORDER BOOTLEGGERS AMERICANS

WASHINGTON.—Most of the bootleggers and rum runners operating between Canada and the United States are Americans, prohibition officials declared today.

As a result of the enormous profits amassed annually by the liquor smugglers are returned to the United States and most of the money spent in this country. Canada gets little actual profit out of the rum business since the liquor for export to United States is purchased at the export docks at the usual prices.

This was held in some quarters as an explanation of the desire of the Canadian Government with the United States in suppressing the traffic, even though the dominion is a non-prohibition country.

There is now a bill pending in the higher house of the Canadian Parliament to prohibit the legal clearance of liquor to the United States. Officials here said they had information it was likely to pass.

One official also said that Canada was "tired of the dirty mess" that has arisen on the border because of rum smuggling. Considerable discord between the two governments has resulted in the

TO REPORT FEED TEST

Madison-Co Experiment Farm To Be Scene of Exhibit On May 1.

Thursday afternoon May 1st, a meeting will be held on the Madison County experiment farm at which time the cattle on test will be exhibited and the results of the test reported. One lot of 14 cattle have received a full silage ration and the other lot of 10 cattle a half silage ration plus shelled corn. Both lots receive hay and cotton seed meal alike.

Last year's test which attracted state wide interest was a comparison of all silage with all shelled corn with cottonseed and hay alike to both groups. An acre of corn in this test gave much larger returns when fed thru the silo. The question raised by last year's test was what would have been the outcome from a ration which contained both silage and shelled corn. The test this year answers this very point and a large number of feeders are very much interested in the answer.

A big crowd is expected. The Experiment Farm is four miles west of London and a little over a mile from the penitentiary farm.

COUNTY SIXTH IN SHIPMENT

Livestock Valued At One Million Shipped in Ohio During March.

Live stock valued at more than $1,000,000 was sold through farmers' cooperatives in Ohio during March, says a report from the Ohio Live Stock Cooperative Association.

Thirty-six counties with shipping associations reported a total of 711 carloads shipped. They included 21,472 hogs going to market, 10,889 hogs going direct to packers—32,361 in all, 2,075 cattle, 4, 180 calves and 21,549 sheep. The market weight of this stock was 9,814,374 pounds and its net market value $1,008,095.96.

With poor corn and a large reduction in number of hogs on farms the percentage of stock sold cooperatively has shown a good gain. R. Q. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the association, states: There were eight per cent fewer hogs on farms in 1929 than in 1928 and 14 and one half per cent fewer this year than last. This is a loss of nearly a million hogs in two years. Coupled with the poor feeding quality of corn this has cut drastically into the receipts at eastern terminal markets. At the same time the cooperative receipts at these markets have shown an increase. During the second week of April cooperative receipts at Pittsburgh reached 45.4 percent which is a record for all time. They were 33.7 percent at Cincinnati, 26.6 percent at Buxalo and 18.7 percent at Cleveland. All counties with the exception of a few of the predominately hog producing counties showed an increase, in volume over March a year ago.

Pickaway-co marketed 35 decks the report of Harry Briggs, manager of the association, shows. The ten leading counties were Franklin, Fayette, Putnam, Logan, Pickaway, Hardin, Darke, Greene and Wyandot.

FORD USED CAR SALE THURSDAY

A unique entertainment feature will be presented at R.L. Brehmer's Ford salesroom tomorrow afternoon and evening in the person of A. G. Johnston, a combination of Will Rogers and Billy Sunday, who will hit the automotive sawdust trail with a load of quick wit and humor, in a used car auction that will feature 30 reconditioned cars of popular makes. The sales will be held at 2:00 p. m. in the afternoon and will be continued at night at 7:00 p. m.

In a great many cities throughout the United States large crowds of automobile buyers have come from all directions to attend the auction sales held by the famous A. G. Johnston.

In automotive auctioneering circles, Mr. Johnston has no peer. He is constantly in demand by the larger automobile dealers to help them move their surplus stocks of used cars. If you would see one of the greatest auctioneers in action don't miss this great sale. It is your one opportunity of securing a good automobile at your own price.

Time of Eating Reduced

The average person spends 13 days a year eating instead of 61 two decades ago, concludes Marye Dahnke, an economist.

"KONJOLA DID WHAT ALL ELSE FAILED TO DO"

Various Ills That Ruled For 18 Months Are Ended By This New Medicine.

MRS. L. D. JOHNSTON.

"In my case Konjola did what all else I tried failed to do," said Mrs. L. D. Johnston, West Jefferson, Ohio, near Columbus. "My appetite failed completely, and what little I did force myself to eat caused intense stomach pains. I always felt tired and worn out; had dizzy spells and terrific headaches that lasted for days at a time. I was just sick all over and felt miserable."

"But what was I to do? Not a medicine I tried helped me a particle. A friend, who knew my condition, highly recommended Konjola. I decided to take her advice. Well, to make a long story short, six bottles of this splendid medicine completely ended everyone of my health troubles. I am gaining in weight and feeling simply great. Just to be rid of those terrible headaches is joy in itself. I feel it my duty to endorse such a wonderful medicine."

When taken for six or eight weeks, Konjola, the new and different medicine, will work wonders that will astonish those who suffer from stubborn ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Circleville at Hamilton & Ryan's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

MOST CANADIAN BORDER BOOTLEGGERS AMERICANS

WASHINGTON.—Most of the bootleggers and rum runners operating between Canada and the United States are Americans, prohibition officials declared today.

As a result of the enormous profits amassed annually by the liquor smugglers are returned to the United States and most of the money spent in this country. Canada gets little actual profit out of the rum business since the liquor for export to United States is purchased at the export docks at the usual prices.

This was held in some quarters as an explanation of the desire of the Canadian Government with the United States in suppressing the traffic, even though the dominion is a non-prohibition country.

There is now a bill pending in the higher house of the Canadian Parliament to prohibit the legal clearance of liquor to the United States. Officials here said they had information it was likely to pass.

One official also said that Canada was "Tired of the dirty mess," that has arisen on the border because of rum smuggling. Considerable discord between the two governments has resulted in the efforts of the American authorities to suppress smuggling.

Canadian customs officials were said to feel that if liquor clearances to United States were eliminated, there might be a general improvement in border conditions from the standpoint of legitimate business and the tourists traffic.

No steps will be taken looking to the negotiation of a new rum treaty with Canada until the measure to stop clearances has been acted on, according to treasury officials. If the bill is passed, however, it was expected that an international conference would be arranged and that certain agreements would be made by both governments as to protection against smuggling.

The SUN pours fragrance into these tobaccos

LONG BEFORE the choice leaves of golden Turkish and velvety brown Domestic tobacco are selected for Camel Cigarettes, nature's own alchemy has worked a miracle in them that no effort of man can hope to duplicate.

Every tiny leaf-cell is irradiated—stored full of goodness by the clean, pure vigor of the sun!

Our share in the making of Camels is to see that all of the fragrance, mildness, mellowness, aroma—in a word all of the natural goodness of these sun-ripened tobaccos is preserved and developed—then to combine them into the smooth, delightful harmony of the famous Camel blend, and manufacture them into cigarettes by the most modern methods known to the industry.

You can taste the natural goodness in every delicious puff of a Camel Cigarette.

CREDIT
It used to be said that instalment buying was all right as long as people were busy and prosperous, but would bring disaster to merchants when a period of unemployment came. The past winter has been a good test of this prophecy. In many cities there has been serious unemployment. And the prophecy has proved false.
The department of Commerce finds, in nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of retail credit business, a loss of only 1.2 per cent from bad debts in instalment buying. Incidentally it finds only six-tenths of one per cent loss on open credit accounts.
This seems to show that people are not only more honest but more thrifty than they are usually considered. When people out of work meet their instalment payments, it means that they have saved and have resources beyond the needs of the moment.

TOO MANY PRISONERS
Attorney General Mitchell says that "further stimulation of prosecution activities under any law will result in difficulties," because penal institutions of the country, particularly federal and state prisons, are crowded to the danger point. This might almost be interpreted as meaning that it would be well to ease up a little on law enforcement in general.
Perhaps a huge program of prison-building should be undertaken.
Or something might be done in a legislative way to reduce the number of crimes possible for a citizen to commit. Still another remedy would be a voluntary holiday on the part of professional criminals and a postponement of their misdeeds on the part of hitherto honest citizens about to embark on wrong-doing.
Unless some way out of this strange dilemma is evolved, we seem doomed to be in hot water if we don't prosecute law-breakers and in just as hot water if we do, which is an old state of affairs for an intelligent nation.

of honest laughter and the boon of hope and courage. Destined to shake the foundations of the show business."
"That's certainly going some!

red to live up to the specifications?
Probably not. But it is pleasant to discover that the Barnum spirit isn't dead yet. The American genius for superlatives survives." Old

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

WHAT HAS HAPPENED THUS FAR.
YOUNG and unsophisticated Eve Reade meets Kenneth Wilmer, noted artist. They fall in love. Eve's friend, Mary, tries to convince her the match is unsuitable. Ken introduces Eve to his unconventional artist colony set. When Ken leaves a party with his friend, Eve is hurt. Mary O'Reilly, author friend of Ken's, also interested in Eve, drives her to Riff's. Ken is there and rushes to Eve, telling of his longing for her. After painting Eve the next day, Ken gives a party. Eve is thrilled when Ken and Nory toast her.

CHAPTER XIV.
BUT Eve did not feel herself one of the colony really. They invited her to all their parties and were as friendly to her as they were to each other but she had always the sense of being an outsider. The interest of creative work which was a bond between the others did not reach to her and perky, without intending it they patronized her a bit on this account. They all were rather self-centered, inclined to use her as an audience and already she had met the phrase "my public" and what went with it far too often.

Fifi had left for Hollywood, the whole crowd taking her to the train, seeing her off in gay pandemonium but without a word of farewell. And Eve had written in embarrassment while Ivy Carr con- fided her opinion of a sleep-by-day and fly-by-night husband who would take cigarette money from his hard-working wife.

"I've a boy six years old," sput-tered Mrs. Apollo Belvedere. But I won't have him here in this mess. He's with his grandmother where I'm likely to be one day. Don't marry an artist whatever you do. Lazy critters always racing after some new fad."

Eve had seen Pierre lolling in secluded corners with Fifi. But then all the wives in The Lane were supposed to accept an occasional flirtation, either their hus- bands' or their own, as part of regular living. It was one of the things about the tribe that made Eve feel alien for she never could think beyond herself and Ken, be- yond what it would be like if she were his wife and he preferred someone else even for an hour.

But water puzzles and escap-ements in her friendship with these people included, there was a thing that made up for all this and more, endlessly more. She had Ken. Whatever the strange new life he led, it held Ken.

And on the very day this happ-ened set her eyes brimming with hap-piness Eve had her first quarrel with Ken.

Such a tiny thing to quarrel about. All said and done, indeed, it was not a quarrel at all, it was only a word war, a joust it was only Ken, sullen white-faced, turning away from Eve, walking off into some unknown place where she could not follow into a corner that seemed to press down on her, crushing her beneath its phantom weight.

They were at Lima's and she happened to mention her party with Nory. "It was so awfully fun," Ken. "I'd never see you meet him be-fore, you know, and he made me come in and feel me funny little cakes and sandwiches. I felt ter-ribly romantic, like a lady out of a story."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

H. CAMPBELL JONES, MANAGING DIRECTOR OF THE SYDNEY (AUSTRALIA) SUN, SAYS:
THAT truth and service in advertising as in every other human activity.

There were days when much ad-vertising was as far from fact as the advance posters of a traveling circus. Dit time has taught every person concerned in salesmanship that honesty is the best policy.

A one sale man can prosper for a few weeks or even a few months in a decent sized city but the man who cannot go back to his first buyer, or, as a selector, to the firm which gave him his first or-der, is about as useless as Esqui-maux Pie in Hell.

Great Struggle
One of the greatest struggles that ever took place in the human breast is when a husband tells a wife and tries to decide between having that extra money for himself and concealing from his wife his wage in his ability to get it—Florida Times-Union.

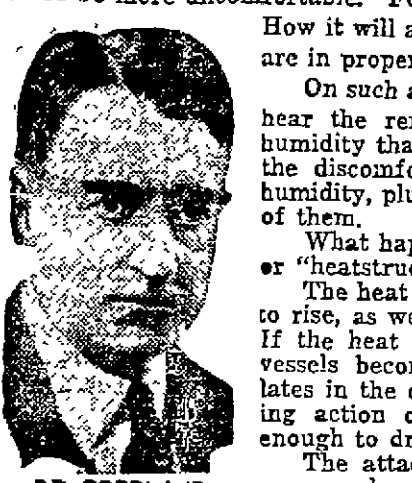

Heat Prostration

Usually Due to Your Physical Condition

Says Dr. Copeland

Start Now to Prepare Your Body to Withstand the Shock of First Hot Days, Urges Authority, Outlining Treatment for Victims of Sun or Temperature.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

WHEN the first hot days come, with the thermometer soaring, you are treated to a free Turkish bath by the combination of humidity and heat. Perhaps you wonder if anything could be more uncomfortable. For many such a day may prove fatal. How it will affect you depends upon whether you are in proper physical condition.

On such a sweltering Summer's day you often hear the remark, "It isn't the heat, it is the humidity that's so awful." As a matter of fact, the discomfort is the effect of both heat and humidity, plus the high pulse rate caused by both of them.

What happens when a person is "sunstruck" or "heatstruck"? The heat causes the temperature of the body to rise, as well as the temperature of the blood. If the heat is continued long enough the blood vessels become paralyzed. The blood accumu-lates in the dilated veins and lungs. The pump-ing action of the heart is lessened, not being enough to drive the blood all around the body.

The attack may begin with headache, faint-ness, weakness and dizziness. The pulse be-comes rapid. Usually the skin is hot and dry. Delirium may follow. Let there be no delay in treating the patient, for death may result unless speedy help is given. The temperature must be lowered and the heart stimulated.

First, loosen or remove the cloth-ing and sprinkle or sponge the body with cold water. If possible the patient should be put into a bathtub of cold water, making sure that cold bandages are applied to the head. After this keep the body cool and the extremities warm. If the feet are cold, and they usually are, then heat should be applied as soon as the cold bath is over.

Should the patient be conscious let him inhale either ammonia or camphor, or he may swallow water containing a few drops of the aromatic spirits of ammonia or cam-phor. Make an effort to pour fluid down the throat of an unconscious person. Rub the body and the feet and hands to keep the circulation going. The blood is numbed to the surface by

When the patient is able to take it, give him a cup of hot, strong coffee or hot milk. Scientists are endeavoring to find methods by which to combat heat prostration. Dr. W. J. McConnell, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, recently made experi-ments to determine the effects of heat on human beings. These tests were carried out with persons con-fined in corked heat chambers. Dr. McConnell explains how the pulse rate acts as a barometer. By this means an expert can tell whether the heat sufferer is near the danger point. As heat and humidity in-crease the circulatory organs try to keep the temperature constant. The blood is numbed to the surface by the heart and the skin becomes flushed. As the struggle within the body increases, so does the pulse rate increase. It was found that 95 degrees Fahrenheit, when the air is saturated and still, is the highest temperature to which the body can safely adapt itself. With a brisk wind blowing, 95 degrees is the highest safe tem-perature. The most suitable condi-tions for working are from 49 to 75 degrees. This data made it possible to predict how human beings react to certain temperatures. Means were suggested for combating the hot weather perils.

Theatres

AT THE GRAND
The "Romance of the Rio Grande," with Warner Baxter, Mary Duncan, and Antonio More-nio, is one of the finest talking dramas of the present day screen and is featured by excellent act-ing. The story is of three women who fought for one man and what a fight it turned out to be.

AT THE METROPOLITAN
Ina Claire, charming star in Pathe's all-talking production of "The Awful Truth," which comes to the Metropolitan Theatre on Wednesday, won her first recogni-tion by David Belasco who later became her mentor by burlesque-ing one of his current plays in the Ziegfeld Follies. She was singing a parody of Marie-Odile and her gift of satire made the number one of the biggest hits of that season's show.

Because Miss Claire's burlesque of a Belasco star indicated a finer talent not inferior to that of the artist she was mimicking, Belasco made her a flattering offer. The next year, under his management, she was a Broadway star in "Polly With a Past." There follows a long string of successes which in-clude "The Gold Diggers," "Grounds for Divorce," "Blue-beard's Eighth Wife," "The Awful Truth" and "The Last of Mrs. Cheyne."

AT THE CLIFTONA
What is alleged to be the larg-est collection of screen celebrities ever to be used in a talking com-edy will be seen Wednesday at the Cliftona Theatre, where Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's satire of Holly-wood studio life, "Free and Easy," will be shown.

The cast includes Euster Keaton, in his initial talking and singing screen appearance, Anita Page, Trixie Friganza, Robert Montgom-ery, Dorothy Sebastian, Karl Dane, John Miljan, Gwen Lee, William Collier, Sr., Edgar Dearing, Marion Shilling, and Lotie Howell. The company did not stop with its reg-ular players, but even incorporated several of its directors in the cast such well known executives as Ce-cil B. De Mille, Lionel Barrymore, Fred Niblo and David Burton, making their appearance in the in-side studio scenes.

10 YEARS AGO
Ted Lewis, the jazz king son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Friedman was re-cently invited by Miss Margaret Wilson daughter of President Wil-son to play before a society of which she was a member.

Loring Wittich will give a con-cert at the Grand Opera hous Friday, May 14.

The senior class play "Th-Mouse Trap" given by members of the senior class of Everts High school played before a large audi-ence in Memorial Hall Friday evening.

CREDIT

It used to be said that installment buying was all right as long as people were busy and prosperous, but would bring disaster to merchants when a period of unemployment came. The past winter has been a good test of this prophecy. In many cities there has been serious unemployment. And the prophecy has proved false.

The department of Commerce finds, in nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of retail credit business, a loss of only 1.2 per cent from bad debts in installment buying. Incidentally it finds only six-tenths of one per cent loss on open credit accounts.

This seems to show that people are not only more honest but more thrifty than they are usually considered. When people out of work meet their installment payments, it means that they have saved and have resources beyond the needs of the moment.

TOO MANY PRISONERS

Attorney General Mitchell says that "further stimulation of prosecution activities under any law will result in difficulties," because penal institutions of the country, particularly federal and state prisons, are crowded to the danger point. This might almost be interpreted as meaning that it would be well to ease up a little on law enforcement in general.

Perhaps a huge program of prison-building should be undertaken. Or something might be done in a legislative way to reduce the number of crimes possible for a citizen to commit. Still another remedy would be a voluntary holiday on the part of professional criminals and a postponement of their misdeeds on the part of hitherto honest citizens about to embark on wrong-doing.

Unless some way out of this strange dilemma is evolved, we seem doomed to be in hot water if we don't prosecute law-breakers and in just as hot water if we do, which is an old state of affairs for an intelligent nation.

SUPERLATIVES

The popular entertainers, Amos 'n' Andy, have found time between broadcasts to make a motion picture, and this is the way the public is told of their achievement in a current ad:

"Twin meteors of the air. Mightiest all-time attraction. The breathless magic of radio and the God-given genius of man have wrought in Amos 'n' Andy the greatest phenomenon in the sweep of all show ages. Unexampled. Fantastic. One of the most superb and amazing manifestations of this roaring, rocking century. Like flaming torches they blaze heaven-high. Lighting the way for countless millions to the joy of honest laughter and the boon of hope and courage. Destined to shake the foundations of the show business."

That's certainly going some! Can even the twin miracles referred to live up to the specifications? Probably not. But it is pleasant to discover that the Barnum spirit isn't dead yet. The American genius for superlatives survives. Old P. T. himself couldn't have done much better.

"SHEIK'S WIFE" BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

WHAT HAS HAPPENED THUS FAR.

YOUNG and unsophisticated Eve Reade meets Kenneth Wilmer, noted artist. They fall in love. Eve's friend, Mary, tries to convince her the match is unsuitable. Ken introduces Eve to his unconventional artist colony set. When Ken leaves a party with the Fifi Devoe, Eve is hurt. Nory O'Reil, author friend of Ken's also interested in Eve, drives her to Fifi's. Ken is there and rushes to Eve, telling of his longing for her. After painting Eve the next day, Ken gives a party. Eve is thrilled when Ken and Nory toast her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XIV.

BUT Eve did not feel herself one of the colony really.

They invited her to all their parties and were as friendly to her as they were to each other but she had always the sense of being an outsider. The interest of creative work which was a bond between the others did not reach to her and perhaps without intending it they patronized her a bit on this account. They all were rather self-centered, inclined to use her as an audience and already she had met the phrase "my public" and what went with it far too often.

Fifi had left for Hollywood, the whole crowd taking her to the train, seeing her off in gay pandemonium but without a word of farewell. And Eve had written to her a long letter which she had sent by the opinion of a sleep-by-day and fly-by-night husband who would take cigarette money from his hard-working wife.

"I've a boy six years old," sputtered Mrs. Apollo Belvedere. "But I won't have him here in this mess. He's with his grandmother . . . where I'm likely to be one day. Don't marry an artist whatever you do. Lazy critters always racing after some new face. . ."

Eve had seen Pierre lolling in secluded corners with Fifi. But then all the wives in The Lane were supposed to accept an occasional flirtation, either their husbands' or their own, as part of regular living. It was one of the things about the tribe that made Eve feel alien for she never could think beyond herself and Ken, beyond what it would be like if she were his wife and he preferred someone else even for an hour.

But whatever puzzles and disappointments her friendship with these people included, there was a thing that made up for all this and more, endlessly more. She had Ken. Whatever the strange new life lacked, it held Ken!

And on the very day this thought set her eyes brimming with happiness Eve had her first quarrel with Ken.

Such a tiny thing to quarrel about. All said and done, indeed, it was not a quarrel at all since Ken, suddenly white-faced, turning away from Eve, walking out into some unknown place where she could not follow, into a silence that seemed to press down on her, crushing her beneath its phantom weight.

They were at Elma's and she happened to mention her tea party with Nory. "It was oceans of fun, Ken. I'd never even met him before, you know, and he made me come in and fed me funny little cakes and sandwiches. I felt terribly romantic, like a lady out of a story."

Eve was laughing, pleased with having an adventure to relate. But when he said, in a cold, tight voice, "You and Nory—oh, I see—I see," she glanced at him, saw his lips drawn, tragedy in his eyes.

"Why Ken," she faltered. "why."

New Biographies

If all the biographies which were written in one year were placed in one pile Ananias would turn over in his grave.—Oakland Tribune.

From the Spanish

The word "gallardo" is thought to be a corruption of the Spanish "el legarto." Hawkins employed the term "algartagos" in 1594.

Has Double Purpose

Knowledge is twofold and consists not only in an affirmation of what is true, but in the negation of what is false.—Colton.

H. CAMPBELL JONES, MANAGING DIRECTOR OF THE SYDNEY (AUSTRALIA) SUN, SAYS:

That truth and service win in advertising as in every other human activity. There were days when much advertising was as far from fact as the advance posters of a traveling circus.

But time has taught every person concerned in salesmanship that honesty is the best policy.

A one sale man can prosper for a few weeks or even a few months in a decent sized city but the man who cannot go back to his first buyer, or as a solicitor, to the firm which gave him his first order, is about as useless as Esquimaux Pie in Hell.

Today only the person of subtlest intellect can separate advertising from news. And most times he is wrong.

NO MODERN NEWSPAPER CAN WIN A LARGE CIRCLE OF READERS UNLESS IT IS ABSOLUTELY TRUTHFUL AND RENDERS PUBLIC SERVICE. AND ADVERTISING AND NEWS ARE ONE AND INDISOLUBLE.

Great Struggle

One of the greatest struggles that ever took place in the human breast is when a husband gets a rise and tries to decide between having that extra money for himself and conceding from his wife his pride in his ability to get it.—Florida Times-Union.

Heat Prostration Usually Due to Your Physical Condition

Says Dr. Copeland

Start Now to Prepare Your Body to Withstand the Shock of First Hot Days, Urges Authority, Outlining Treatment for Victims of Sun or Temperature.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

WHEN the first hot days come, with the thermometer soaring, you are treated to a free Turkish bath by the combination of humidity and heat. Perhaps you wonder if anything could be more uncomfortable. For many such a day may prove fatal.

How it will affect you depends upon whether you are in proper physical condition.

On such a sweltering Summer's day you often hear the remark, "It isn't the heat, it is the humidity that's so awful." As a matter of fact, the discomfort is the effect of both heat and humidity, plus the high pulse rate caused by both of them.

What happens when a person is "sunstruck" or "heatstruck"?

The heat causes the temperature of the body to rise, as well as the temperature of the blood. If the heat is continued long enough the blood vessels become paralyzed. The blood accumulates in the dilated veins and lungs. The pumping action of the heart is lessened, not being enough to drive the blood all around the body.

The attack may begin with headache, faintness, weakness and dizziness. The pulse becomes quite rapid. Usually the skin is hot and dry. Delirium may follow. Let there be no delay in treating the patient, for death may result unless speedy help is given. The temperature must be lowered and the heart stimulated.

First, loosen or remove the clothing and sprinkle or sponge the body with cold water. If possible the patient should be put into a bathtub of cold water, making sure that cold bandages are applied to the head.

After this keep the body cool and the extremities warm. If the feet are cold, and they usually are, then heat should be applied as soon as the cold bath is over.

Should the patient be conscious let him inhale either ammonia or ammonia vapor, or he may swallow water containing a few drops of the aromatic spirits of ammonia or camphor. Make no effort to pour fluid down the throat of an unconscious person.

Rub the body and the feet and hands to keep the circulation going.

the heart and the skin becomes flushed. As the struggle with the body increases, so does the pulse rate increase.

It was found that 90 degrees Fahrenheit, when the air is saturated and still, is the highest temperature to which the body can safely adapt itself. With a brisk wind blowing, 95 degrees is the highest safe temperature. The most suitable conditions for working are from 46 to 75 degrees. This data made it possible to predict how human beings react to certain temperatures. Means were suggested for combating the hot weather perils.

Theatres

AT THE GRAND

The "Romance of the Rio Grande," with Warner Baxter, Mary Duncan, and Antonio Moreno, is one of the finest talking dramas of the present day screen and is featured by excellent acting. The story is of three women who fought for one man and what a fight it turned out to be.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

Ina Claire, charming star in Pathe's all-talking production of "The Awful Truth," which comes to the Metropolitan Theatre on Wednesday, won her first recognition by David Belasco who later became her mentor by burlesquing one of his current plays in the Ziegfeld Follies. She was singing a parody of Marie-Odile and her gift of satire made the number one of the biggest hits of that season's show.

Because Miss Claire's burlesque of a Belasco star indicated a finer talent not inferior to that of the artist she was mimicking, Belasco made her a flattering offer. The next year, under his management, she was a Broadway star in "Folly With a Past." There follows a long string of successes which include "The Gold Diggers," "Grounds for Divorce," "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," "The Awful Truth" and "The Last of Mrs. Cheyne."

AT THE CLIFTONA

What is alleged to be the largest collection of screen celebrities ever to be used in a talking comedy will be seen Wednesday at the Cliftona Theatre, where Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's satire of Hollywood studio life, "Free and Easy," will be shown.

their reserve votes. This is a very dangerous method to follow, for a little slip, a little delay in getting around, and you are lost. Better to be a little early than one second too late.

Our manner of closing will allow no chance for one candidate to come in, find out what some other one has turned in, then come in with additional subscription money.

One chance only is the rule, and that rule will be strictly adhered to. All candidates must have their reports filed out completely and have the cash to balance every subscription, before a single vote will be issued. We will work just as fast as we can and get through as rapidly as possible, but the different candidates will greatly aid the management should they turn in their reports early. After we start counting, it will take about an hour to complete the counting and the awarding of the prize.

FILE IN PERSON

Candidates living in outside towns should not depend upon the mails to bring in their last reports, but should bring them in person.

Better make your hand as strong as possible and make it strong on new ones for there you get the most votes. It has been said that certain candidates are making plans to come in at the finish with a bunch of new subscriptions. If that is true, these candidates will undoubtedly drift off with the elegant prizes after the count has been made. The leading candidates at present may not be the leading candidates at the close.

The only way to win is to grab off every subscription you possibly can secure. Go to your friends and get them to give you a second subscription if possible and secure the regular number of votes before 7 o'clock tonight, that will give you a boost and every subscription counts. Be certain that when the final hour rolls around, you will be ready with a long enough list of subscriptions; both new and renewals; to walk off with a huge bonus ballot and thereby stand that much better chance of winning the Oldsmobile. Remember the closing hour and don't forget to be at the Herald Campaign office tonight at 7 o'clock with your reserve votes and final report.

Today Miss Mary Ellen Phillips goes to the top. Miss Phillips has scores of friends who have promised her their support, and it is predicted that possibly big surprises are in store for everyone before the finish.

their reserve votes. This is a very dangerous method to follow, for a little slip, a little delay in getting around, and you are lost. Better to be a little early than one second too late.

Our manner of closing will allow no chance for one candidate to come in, find out what some other one has turned in, then come in with additional subscription money. One chance only is the rule and that rule will be strictly adhered to. All candidates must have their reports filled out completely and have the cash to balance every subscription, before a single vote will be issued. We will work just as fast as we can and get through as rapidly as possible, but the different candidates will greatly aid the management should they turn in their reports early. After we start counting, it will take about an hour to complete the counting and the awarding of the prize.

FILE IN PERSON

Better make your hand as strong as possible and make it strong on new ones for there you get the most votes. It has been said that certain candidates are making plans to come in at the finish with a bunch of new subscriptions. If that is true, these candidates will undoubtedly drift off with the elegant prizes after the count has been made. The leading candidates at present may not be the leading candidates at the close.

The only way to win is to grab off every subscription you possibly can secure. Go to your friends and get them to give you a second subscription if possible and secure the regular number of votes before 7 o'clock tonight, that will give you a boost and every subscription counts. Be certain that when the final hour rolls around, you will be ready with a long enough list of subscriptions, both new and renewals, to walk off with a huge bonus ballot and thereby stand that much better chance of winning the Oldsmobile. Remember the closing hour and don't forget to be at the Herald Campaign office tonight at 7 o'clock with your reserve votes and final report.

Today Miss Mary Ellen Phillips goes to the top. Miss Phillips has scores of friends who have promised her their support, and it is predicted that possibly big surprises are in store for everyone before the finish.
